In the election this fall we have the third epoch. You have now a chance to redeem yourselves and regain your lost liberties. Trust not that man for a friend who advises you to stay at home and take no part, it is the same old cry which lulled you to sleep, while your enemies were enslaving you. Let your enemies were enslaving you. Let every man who possibly can turn out and register and vote for enfranchise ment. If you do not vote for a single man by all means vote for enfranchisement. If you let this opportunity slip, you may not have the same chance again in years. Many of the Radicals, disgusted with the enormities of their leaders, will vote for enfranchisement; many will not; your votes will turn the scale. I hold that any man who counsels you to take no part in this issue is either unable to see the true position, or is no friend to the disfranchised. Remember that "eternal viglance is the price of liberty."
